NO WAY TO BEAT BRYAN.

WHAT ELECTORAL COLLEGE FIGURES SHOW.

FIFTEEN STATES CERTAIN.

Populists Cannot Fail to Add Four More.

A FAIR FIGHT FOR THE REST.

Changes in Political Sentiment that Insure Democratic Success. Accurate Computations.

Based on Assured Data—Greater Part of Doubtful States Lean Toward Silver.

Bryan Could Win Without New York, Illinois and Indiana.

It has been said that the political figures may as well give up their calculations this year, as the election is one of the few that has been decided in the line of politics and now done in the game of politics.

While this is in a measure true, the conclusion reached is incorrect. Except in a few states where the Populists are powerful, even, and in some parts of the country, where it has formerly for years had hardly a standing, its strength has greatly increased. The next election of the house has made the Democrats certain of a convention minus something. It indicates a Democratic revival in the west and south.

The Populist party is strong by the election of 1896, but the Democratic and Democratic candidate is just so much solid gain. If the holding Democrats should put all their strength behind the silver ticket, it would be to draw the ballot box the few Democrats who are associated with the new Democrats, but not those who have avowed protection, pluckiness and paternalism away from the McKinley ticket.

If this candidate should be in the field, some disaffected Democrats might vote for McKinley, but quite as many would vote for Bryan, and those that lose their votes there is good ground now for an intelligent judgment on the outcome of the election, based on the increased strength gained from the Populists.

1. Are the Populists growing?

The total popular vote in 1896 was as follows:

Democrats..... 8,555,019
Populists..... 8,156,000

The Democratic and Populist vote combined was 6,597,915, or 1,421,838 in excess of the Republican vote.

It is claimed that the gold Democrats in 1896 were 1,000,000 in excess of the silver.

1. Have the Populists lost or gained strength since the election of 1896?

2. Is the Populist candidate the Democratic candidate for president, William J. Bryan, to be general?

3. Is the Populist election from the Democratic party, caused by the action of the Chicago convention, great enough to offset the increase of strength gained from the Populists?

The questions that present themselves in connection with these facts are as follows:

1. Have the Populists lost or gained strength since the election of 1896?

2. Is the Populist candidate the Democratic candidate for president, William J. Bryan, to be general?

3. Is the Populist election from the Democratic party, caused by the action of the Chicago convention, great enough to offset the increase of strength gained from the Populists?

The total popular vote in 1896 was as follows:

California..... 35,003,601
Illinois..... 34,964,261
Iowa..... 11,151,900
Michigan..... 22,975,709
Minnesota..... 20,500,000
Missouri..... 15,218,118
Wisconsin..... 16,113,113
Wyoming..... 4,472,735

Montana..... 9,018,000
Nebraska..... 8,514,781
North Dakota..... 7,354
Oregon..... 16,980
Ohio (S.)..... 35,072,576
Oregon..... 20,500,000
South Dakota..... 20,500,000
Washington..... 16,145,870
West Virginia..... 10,000
Wisconsin..... 9,039,504
Wyoming..... 11,000

In 1896, the total popular vote in 1896 was 1,863,453, or 292,454 larger than in 1892.

In view of the large popular vote in 1896, it is significant that the Democratic vote in 1896 showed an increase of 16,698 over the vote of 1892, while the Republican vote decreased 164,108 from the vote at the election of four years ago.

In the states which will be the battle-ground of the election, the 1896 or decreased vote of 1892, as follows:

In 1892, in 1894, increased vote in 1896.

California..... 35,003,601
Illinois..... 34,964,261
Iowa..... 11,151,900
Michigan..... 22,975,709
Minnesota..... 20,500,000
Missouri..... 15,218,118
Wisconsin..... 16,113,113
Wyoming..... 4,472,735

Montana..... 9,018,000
Nebraska..... 8,514,781
North Dakota..... 7,354
Oregon..... 16,980
Ohio (S.)..... 35,072,576
Oregon..... 20,500,000
South Dakota..... 20,500,000
Washington..... 16,145,870
West Virginia..... 10,000
Wisconsin..... 9,039,504
Wyoming..... 11,000

The figures do not correctly show in all cases the actual Populistic increase or decrease in Colorado, for instance, the Populists had a large number of their supporters divided between the Republicans and Populists. In Idaho the Democratic and Populist vote was 16,698, while the Republican vote in 1892 was 16,108.

The Kansas vote of 1892 shows the combined Democratic and Populist vote as 16,698, while the 1896 vote was 16,108.

In Nebraska in 1892 there was a bitter fight among the Democrats over the question of whether to support the Populists. The local Democratic leaders fearing they might lose their power in their organization if fusion proceeded, voted to support the Republicans, but the Democratic vote, which had been 10,558 in 1892, in 1896, dwindled down to 8,414. In the same state the Populist vote for governor, which was 7,616, and 6,965 votes were cast for a silver Democratic candidate. The Populists' gubernatorial candidate was beaten.

In North Dakota the Democratic and Populist vote was 16,698, while the Populists in 1892 and 1896 in 1894.

In Nevada in 1894 the vote of 5,588 was cast for a Governor, the silver candidate, while 1,000 and eleven thousand votes were cast for a Populist.

The organist, Mr. W. D. Charles Dean, Glendale. If there were any others present taking part in the meeting the News man did not discover them. These are good men as we have in the county, yes in the Democratic party, or any other party, or business, or profession. They are good men, who are acting in opposition to a Democratic candidate for President, called by a regular Democrat. Not as Mr. Barnes said in his speech, in the interest of "True Democracy" but in opposition to all party policy and precedent.

There were probably a hundred men who were dressed in complete uniform after the bell rang. This number was made up of Republicans and Democrats, who went in to witness the proceedings.

Dr. R. L. Newson, of Cloverport, took the chair and stated the object of the meeting. He read what he termed his authority for calling this convention, to nominate a permanent chairman.

He moved the election of W. K. Barnes as permanent chairman.

The motion was seconded by F. N. DeHaven, who asked that the election of Mr. Barnes as permanent chairman, was made unanimous. This was adopted, and Mr. Barnes took the stand.

Mr. Barnes said he recognized the importance of the occasion, and that he would be glad to be appointed to preside over this meeting. He said he knew it required a great deal of courage for men to take this stand, but the Chicago platform, and its candidate, Bryan, had been repudiated by a large number of Democrats and they were there in the interest of true Democracy; that Bryan had been branded as a Popocrat, and was heading a ticket in league with the Populists.

He declared that he was in line with the principles laid down by Cleveland, Canada, and others, and that he was in line with the good people of the Democratic party and the country.
